Inclusion Scotland is pleased to welcome you to our Annual General Meeting and Conference “Our Rights, Right Now?”

Disabled people have human rights. But we don’t always get to enjoy our rights.

Our rights to things like social care support and access to food and medicine have been affected.

There is going to be a new law in Scotland to make sure disabled people can have all our rights.
What is the new law about?

What will the new law make Scottish Government do?

What will the new law make service providers like councils and schools and the health service do?

Before the law comes in, what can disabled people and our organisations do to make the new law work well?

There will be opportunities for us to talk about what the new law looks like.

Why do we need this and how can we help?

2.30 to 3.10
Workshop 1

How to make the new law work for us.

We will break into 5 workshop groups. Moira will tell us about the workshops.

In groups we will talk about -

- What do you think about the new law?
- What needs to happen to make it work?
- What can you do and what do you need to do it?

1. How to make incorporation of our human rights work for us

Incorporation means the Government taking steps to incorporate human rights Convention into Scots Law.

2. Social Care Support – what difference can a new human rights law make?

3. Education and Employment – what difference can a new human rights law make?

4. Social Security – what difference can a new human rights law make?

5. Access to Justice – what difference can a new human rights law make?
3.10 to 3.20 Break

3.20 to 4.00
Workshop 2
Covid. It’s not over yet.

Covid is not over. It still makes life hard for lots of disabled people.

We are campaigning for the government to look at what happened. This process will need to be independent of the government and would be called a "public inquiry".

What could have been done differently and what still needs to be done?

We will break into 4 workshop groups.

In groups we will talk about -
- What issues are you still having today because of the pandemic?

- What should the Scottish Government do next?

4.00 to 4.15

We will hear about what people said in the groups.

Moira will talk about the Conference.

Moira will close the Conference and thank everyone for coming.

About Inclusion Scotland

Inclusion Scotland works to get positive changes to things that disabled people care about. We do this so that disabled people are included in all parts of life.

We do this in three ways.

Making local or national government understand the things disabled people care about.

Supporting disabled people to be decision-makers themselves. Decision makers are people like politicians or people who work in the government or council.

Supporting disabled people and other groups to learn about disabled people’s rights and work with us to make changes so our lives are better.
Using Zoom with British Sign Language or Captions.

Do you use British Sign Language?

We will use Zoom to make sure that you can always see the BSL interpreter. You will also be able to see the speaker and the slides. When the BSL interpreters swap over we will show you one that is interpreting.

You can make the BSL interpreter bigger on your screen so you can see them better.

At the top of your screen click 'Gallery View' and pick the screen with the BSL interpreter. Look for the choice that says 'Pin' and click it.

When the interpreters swap over you will need to unpin them and then pin the new interpreter.
You can find out more on by looking at this website
- //support.zoom.us/hc/en-us/articles/201362743-Pinning-participants-videos

Do you use captions?

You will be able to read what people are saying in 'subtitles'.

If you have told us you want to use the captions we will send you a link before the event.

If you have not told us you want to use the captions we will send the link on zoom at the event. It will be in the 'chat' box.

To find the 'chat' box click the 'chat' at the bottom of your screen.

To read the captions and see the slides and speakers you need to split your screen so that you can see both at the same time.

To do this

1. On your zoom screen, look for the bar at the top of the screen. Look for icon with the two squares. Click it. The zoom screen will look smaller.
2. Now do the same on the link to the captions.
3. You can use your cursor to make both screens bigger or smaller or move them about. Use the bottom right corner of the window to resize the windows.

Having a problem?
Chris or Myles at Ability Net, will help you. He can help you with the zoom call or the captions.
